

Fatima Jichi

YEAR OF CALL: 2019

Fatima has a broad public law and civil liberties practice, with a focus on state accountability.

Her broad practice enables her to provide effective advice and representation in cases with a crossover of areas of law. Fatima is particularly suited to instruction in cases involving complex mental health issues, because of her background and expertise in mental health research.

Fatima became a tenant in October 2020 after the completion of her pupillage under the supervision of Stephen Simblet QC (civil liberties) and Lucie Wibberley (criminal defence).

“Her knowledge of the law is first class. She is someone who will literally leave no stone unturned in her pursuit of justice and fairness for the client.”

SEAN RICHARDS, PARTNER, TV EDWARDS LLP, 2020

“Fatima is always thorough, professional, and personable. She is always very clear when explaining the law and procedure and has had positive feedback from our clients. Fatima is an asset to the Bar.”

“Fatima is tirelessly committed to assisting people gain access to justice. She deserves acknowledgment for taking it upon herself to volunteer with Advocate at the peak of COVID-19 when the need for legal assistance was at its highest. Fatima is a future star of the Bar.”

SHIRIN HASAN, SENIOR CASEWORKER, ADVOCATE, 2020

“Fatima was unflappable and remained graceful. I feel in safe hands with Fatima. I am so pleased to be working with her!”

HETAL HATHIWALA, TRAINEE SOLICITOR, BROUDIE JACKSON CANTER 2020

“From my experience of working with Fatima it is clear how deeply she cares about the plight of her clients and she fights fiercely to help them find justice. This approach quickly gains the confidence of our clients who are routinely impressed with Fatima’s advocacy.”

ADAM SPRAY, SOLICITOR AND LEGAL MANAGER, BAIL FOR IMMIGRATION FOR DETAINEES, 2020

ADMINISTRATIVE AND PUBLIC LAW

Fatima is building a varied practice in judicial review claims, including challenges to community care provision, unlawful detention, age assessment challenges and decisions under the National Referral Mechanism.

Fatima has a particular interest in systemic challenges concerning detention in prison, psychiatric hospitals and immigration detention. She is also interested in challenges against the use of police powers at protests.

INQUESTS AND INQUIRIES

Fatima regularly represents bereaved families in Article 2 inquests. She has particular experience of inquests concerning deaths from suicide in the community, prison and psychiatric detention context.

Fatima is a member of the INQUEST lawyers' group.

Fatima welcomes instructions in public inquiries, with a particular interest in police/state powers and state detention. During pupillage, Fatima gained experience of public inquiries, working with her supervisor, Stephen Simblet QC, on the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse (IICSA).

COMMUNITY CARE LAW

Fatima regularly advises and acts in judicial review proceedings relating to the provision of asylum support under the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999. She also has an interest in building a practice across the spectrum of community care law work, including the provision of accommodation and support under the Children Act 1989 and the Care Act 2014.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE POLICE AND PUBLIC AUTHORITIES

Fatima regularly advises and represents Claimants in claims against the police including false imprisonment, assault, malicious prosecution, misfeasance in public office and claims under the Human Rights Act 1998 and the Equality Act 2010. Fatima has acted in settlement hearings in actions against the police, for children and vulnerable adults who lack capacity. She also advises on claims relating to false imprisonment in immigration detention.

Fatima is a member of the Police Action Lawyers Group (PALG).

During her pupillage, she worked with Stephen Simblet QC on a number of highly specialist claims against the police as well as jury trials in false imprisonment and malicious prosecution claims.

PROTEST RIGHTS

Fatima represents protesters in a variety of cases including civil injunctions taken out by commercial organisations and the police, committal proceedings, and those charged with a range of criminal offences.

Fatima also regularly advises in actions against the police arising from incidents of unlawful arrest, false imprisonment and assault during protests. She has a particular interest in challenging the arbitrary and excessive use of police powers at protests, with a special interest in anti-racism protests.

Fatima is a founding member and Director of Black Protest Legal Support (BPLS), who support protesters and activists in the Black Lives Matter and anti-racist movements. Fatima leads the group's strategic litigation team. She is also a volunteer Legal Observer and regularly provides legal updates to volunteer legal observers on the ground as well as contributing to drafting bust cards explaining protesters' rights.

Fatima contributed to the Second Edition of The Protest Handbook. She has held a number of webinars related to defending protesters rights.

NOTABLE CASES

UK Oil & Gas Plc v Persons Unknown (2021)

High Court radically scales back wide-ranging UK Oil and Gas protest injunction granted in 2018 against protesters at oil and gas sites.

Thames Valley Police v DB [2021] (Milton Keynes County Court)

Committal proceedings against HS2 protester dismissed for lack of notice of the civil injunction.

R v MM & Ors [2020] (City of London Magistrates' Court)

Protester acquitted of criminal damage, having glued their hands to the window of an Oxford Circus store.

MENTAL HEALTH LAW

Fatima acts for detained patients in the First-Tier Tribunal (Mental Health) and for patients in displacement of nearest relatives proceedings. She is also seeking to build a practice in Court of Protection work and welcomes instruction in this area.

NATIONAL SECURITY

Fatima is building a practice in the Special Immigration Appeal Commission and is currently junior counsel on a high profile deprivation of citizenship case. She also advises on actions against the state in cases arising out of the unlawful use of counter-terrorism powers. She has a particular interest in privacy law and surveillance.

Fatima's background in counter-terrorism law makes her suited for instruction in such cases. She previously worked with the former Independent Reviewer of Terrorism Legislation to review the operation of the Terrorism Acts as well as their impact on community and individual rights. As part of her role, she reviewed the use of terrorism law powers by counter-terrorism police during the investigations into the Westminster Bridge, London Bridge and Manchester Arena attacks of 2017.

PRO BONO

Fatima has a strong commitment to pro bono work. She is regularly instructed by Bail for Immigration Detainees and Advocate.

BACKGROUND

Prior to joining the Bar, Fatima worked as a medical statistician at the Institute of Psychiatry at KCL and later as the lead statistician at the Division of Psychiatry at UCL. Her research changed clinical practice across Europe and she received recognition for her lecturing, winning a UCL Arena Award.

Fatima helped set up Sufra Food Bank in NW London in 2013 and was an active trustee until 2019. Her community engagement inspired her to retrain as a barrister focusing on social justice issues. The food bank won the Special Recognition Award at Brent Council's Pride of Britain Awards 2017.

During her legal studies, Fatima worked with the then Independent Reviewer of Terrorism Legislation, Max Hill QC, to review the operation of the Terrorism Acts as well as their impact on community and individual rights. She then worked as a consultant for Forward Thinking, an organisation that connects policymakers with marginalised communities, scrutinising the impact of counter-terrorism police raids.

Fatima is the legal affairs editor of an online comment site, The Platform, which advances marginalised narratives.
